5	A B	A First, I met my old teacher who taught me in elementary school for the first time in fifteen years. It was an arrangement set three years before, and I, with several old classmates of mine, had planned the reunion carefully to make it great. And it turned out greater than we expected. Second, my older brother got a driver's license last spring. I had been looking forward to it. That was because I had had some difficulty getting along with him in those days, so I'd expected it would help us to have opportunities to go out together. My expectation was met, and during the summer, we enjoyed visiting many places together in his car! ( 115 words ) B I think it's a good idea to learn geography in high school. First, by studying geography, you will learn there are various ways of living and values different from your own in the world. This will enable you to broaden your horizons and look at things from a new viewpoint. Second, geographical knowledge you have learned at school will be of great help to you if you actually have opportunities to travel abroad after graduation. Knowledge about countries you visit, such as their customs, religions, and main industries, will help you communicate well with the local people and make your trip far more enjoyable.
